WE HAVE, IN CASE YOU HAD NEVER NOTICED, BEEN including a puzzle with each issue. In #1, the puzzle was: Where are the maps? To date, no one has been able to solve this one. In #2, The puzzle was: How do these maps fit together? Mr S. K. Howard of the 11th Kommando was the first to contact us with the correct solution, using such clues as: a vague reference to "three sections in the rules; the mention that the roads and streams would match PanzerBlitz; and a sudden realization that we might be sadistic enough to include too many sections. He solved Puzzle #2 in less than a week. He was sent an extra set of ACAV counters as a prize. Mr Howard commented that this proved a JagdPanther could do the impossible if given a little time. Now, for our puzzle #3, we will give you several, on the condition you tell us which you liked best.

- #3-A. What really happened to Larry Earhart?
- B. Who was the best Cavalry Commander in the American Civil War?
- C. What was the shortest war in History?
- D. In the following jumble, find the names of twenty famous military leaders.

W A V O N E L S O N B H H P M L P G S T

To make it a little easier, here are a few of the harder ones: El Cid, Gyppo, Keil, Yamagushi, The rest you ought to know on a first name basis. You might find them forward, backward, upside down, diagonal, or misspelled!

Contests C and D both have small prizes.
